Council approves Chief Parker's requests

by FERRIN COX
Publisher

The Elba City Council approved a request from Police Chief Jack Parker to purchase two new patrol cars. The council was shown quotes from both Cook Chevrolet and Dixie Ford. The quotes gave a price for straight purchase and lease/purchase. After discussing the matter and comparing prices the council members agreed to lease the vehicles and accepted Mayor Ricky Haywood's recommendation that one be leased from each local dealer.

However following the Thursday night meeting, City Clerk Jeff Goodson checked the legality of the action with an attorney with the League of Municipalities. The question was on the intent of the bid law, Goodson said he had been told that as long as the lease payments didn't exceed $5,000 a year, no bids were necessary. However wording in the bid law does not address this. It simply reads that if a purchase or lease exceeds $5,000, sealed bids must be taken. Following the advice of the lawyer that "it would be safer to accept bids on the cars," Goodson said that is what will be done.

The city will be accepting bids on two new cars, equipped with a "police package."

Parker reported to the council that the department had received a total of 31 complaints. During this time 11 arrests were made. There were also six traffic citations issued, including two for DUI.

Parker was given permission to hire an additional police officer. He explained to council members that three officers would be out during the summer for National Guard Camp, summer vacations were coming up and overtime during football season was costly.

The council agreed to the additional officer if Parker and the city clerk could show enough reduction in overtime would keep the salary within budget.

The city council tabled any action on passing a hunting ordinance. Council member Earl McCollough explained that the proposed "within 1000 feet of a home" in the proposed ordinance would prevent him from hunting on his own farm.

McCollough also cautioned against passing rules which countered state laws. He urged the council study the proposal longer before taking action. He correctly noted that hunting season is over until next fall and therefore there should be no rush.

Gary Brown was present and asked about the status on the old Board of Education building. He explained he had presented a proposal to purchase the property several weeks ago and was requesting an answer.

A proposal from Gerald Tucker was also read to the council. Tucker was proposing to convert the BOE building into craft shops and offices. Tucker said a small manufacturing firm was interested in moving into the old vocational building.

By accepting a request from Mayor Haywood to table any action until he could meet with members of the Industrial Board.

Citizen Mary Hooks discussed with the council a proposal to start a Head Start program in Elba. This would serve children from age three to five. The program would be partially federally funded and the balance from donations.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Johnson agreed with the need. They told the council of having to drive to New Brockton before day to insure their small children had adequate care while they were at work. "We the people have the power to push this and make it work," said Johnson.

"There is nothing more important than our children and we need to give them the proper training and stop these potential problems before they start," he added.

Monthly bills totaling $124,772.81 were approved for payment. This included $107,127 as the city's part of annual insurance premiums. $65,627 of this amount is Workman's Comp and $41,500 is general liability insurance. This left $17,645.81 in regular bills.

A total of $15,700 in bad accounts have been recorded this year. Several thousand dollars of this amount has been collected with the help of small claims court, Murdock said.

The cash flow of the utility has dropped from last month by $720. Records show the City is behind by $43,000 in payment for work on the sewer system. Murdock suggested the City be asked to look into this so it doesn't accumulate any higher.

Electric sales were up $40,000 for the year but expenses were up more. The comparison indicates salaries are up in administration, field and supervision. Vehicle expense was down, but maintenance was up. Bad debts increased from $3,872 to $14,136.

The board members were informed by Henry Clark that the wholesale cost of electricity increased on January 1st by 1.5%.

No action was taken to pass on Garbage pick-up was again discussed. Council member Ronnie Jinnright has been outspoken in favor of Elba getting back into the garbage pick-up. He strongly feels Elba can do the job cheaper than a commercial firm.

However, he said he had an open mind. "I want what is best for the people of Elba," Jinnright said.

After a lengthy discussion, in which representatives of both West-Away and the present contractor ISS addressed the council, a motion passed to seek bids. The agreement was to get bids splitting the residential and commercial and with a combined bid as is presently being used.

"I want what is best for the people of Elba," Jinnright said.

The council approved a request from Operations Officer Henry Clark to pay the cost of employees who are required to secure commercial drivers licenses. This amounts to $40 an employee. Any employee who leaves within one year must repay the expense.

SNOW STORM MARCH 1993... On March 17, 1990, the Elba Courthouse was surrounded by muddy flood water reaching almost to the second floor. Almost three years to the day, the Elba Courthouse was once again surrounded. But this time, it was by WHITE SNOW. Pictured above is what the courthouse looked like at 7:00 p.m. on Saturday morning of March 13, 1993.

Elba W&E Board approves $75,000 in monthly bills

by FERRIN COX
Publisher

$75,000 in monthly bills was enough to get the attention of anyone attending the monthly meeting of the Elba Water and Electric Board.

Chairman Mickey Murdock quickly assured listeners that a one-time insurance payment was responsible for $50,000 of the accounts payable to Elba. This included the annual payment for all Workman's Comp, liability and general insurance of the utility.

Repairs on a water pump cost another $5,000 and payments to auditors and attorneys cost $5,000.

Board members reviewed the financial report and Murdock noted accounts receivable totaled $12,700 and 2 accounts made up over half of this total. He had explained in earlier meetings that court proceedings were involved in some of the late payments.

A total of $15,700 in bad accounts have been recorded this year. Several thousand dollars of this amount has been collected with the help of small claims court, Murdock said.

The cash flow of the utility has dropped from last month by $720. Records show the City is behind by $43,000 in payment for work on the sewer system. Murdock suggested the City be asked to look into this so it doesn't accumulate any higher.

The board members were informed by Henry Clark that the wholesale cost of electricity increased on January 1st by 1.5%.

No action was taken to pass on the rate increase. However, board members urged employees to watch expenses closely.

Clark also requested the board pay the cost of employees getting their commercial drivers license. He said this would cost $40 per employee.

The board approved the expenditure with Clark's recommendation that any employee who leaves within one year will repay this charge.

Electric superintendent Larry Galloway requested the board officially adopt the changes in the 1993 national electrical code. The board approved this action.

Galloway also reported the malfunctioning bucket truck had been repaired and is working fine.

Water Superintendent Dennis Coleman reported inspections were underway on fire plugs and at least 100 have already been inspected.

Load and copper testing has been completed and no water samples were above the compliance level.

Coleman also reported VOC testing (chemicals in well) also looked well and did the bacterial test.

A recent ADEM inspection on the wells and tanks turned up a problem with the tank at well #3 (Branley Highway). Coleman noted it was going to need work. A firm had offered to drain and flush the tank and conduct a complete inspection for $980. The board agreed to the work being done.

The meeting closed with a short discussion of the lawsuit Mayor Ricky Haywood had filed against council members serving on the Board.

Board member Bill Brunson said he thought the matter should be addressed.

Chairman Mickey Murdock said he was ready to completely separate the utility and move everything away from city hall.

Clay Home Is Setting For Harper Bridal Brunch

The lovely home of Mrs. Jim Clay on the Taylor Mill Road is the setting for a bridal brunch honoring Miss Tiffany Harper, bride-elect of Stephen Robert Blount of Tuscaloosa, AL, on Saturday, February 27, at 10:30 a.m.

Decorating the entrance of the home was an arrangement of white wicker bells festooned with spring flowers and gaily trailing ribbon streamers in the bride-elect's chosen color of royal blue.

Guests were warmly welcomed by Mrs. Clay and directed to the family room where they were served appetizers of sausage balls, white wine, and white grape juice.

After a pleasant interlude of lively conversation and reminiscing, guests then enjoyed a delicious brunch consisting of chicken crepes, fresh fruit, miniature bran muffins, cinnamon rolls, strawberry jam, constant comment tea, and cinnamon coffee served from silver and crystal appointments.

The bride took place in the dining room was elegantly with place cards and a satin ribbon runner of royal blue and pink with white doves placed at either end. A lovely arrangement of brightly hued carnations in a milk glass container was the focal point of the table.

Guests were seated at various tables overlaid with linen cloths, featuring centerpieces of freshly-cut spring flowers artistically arranged by Mrs. Nellie Martin.

The beauty of the occasion was greatly enhanced by the floral arrangements created by Marshall Reddick.

The bride-elect was beautifully attired in a soft pink silk suit trimmed with delicate cutwork complements with bone accessories.

Hostesses for this memorable occasion were Mesdames Jim Clay, Mace Cook, Kimmie Dotson, John Osburn, Waylon Sharpless, and James Wise, Jr.

Mrs. Harper was presented with a silver plate flatterware service for 12 and serving pieces by the hostesses.

Twenty guests attended this delightful affair honoring Miss Harper upon her approaching wedding, May 15, 1993.

Carol Fudge Receives Honor At Fort Rucker

More than 40 women employed at Fort Rucker were recognized for their exceptional job performance and contributions to society at the sixth annual Women Of The Year awards ceremony held at the NCO club at Fort Rucker on March 3rd. The women were honored as part of National Women's History Month. This year's theme is "Discover A New World: Women's History."

Mrs. Carol Fudge of Elba, daughter of Mrs. Ina Earl Brown and the late Bill Brown, was selected from a field of 22 nominees as Woman of the Year 1993 in the clerical category. She is employed as personal secretary and administrative assistant to the director of the biomedical applications research division at the Aeromedical Research Laboratory.

Winners were selected in professional, administrative, technical, and nonappropriated fund categories.

Fort Rucker's commanding general, Major General Dave Robinson, presented letters of commendation to all the nominees and plaques to the winners.

Nominees were judged by a panel of judges from Fort Rucker and the outside communities. Criteria included on-the-job performance, job-related activities, self-development, contributions, innovation, personal characteristics of attitude and employee relations, and community service.

Mrs. Fudge was recognized for her breadth of experience, keen sense of judgment, and in-depth knowledge of various areas of biomedical fields which enabled her to operate autonomously with little guidance required, assuming a major portion of the division's administrative burden so that the scientists could devote more time to their research. She was lauded by her supervisor as a person who demonstrated the highest ideals of selfless, devoted service, motivating others by her example and was the epitome of hard work and dedication.

The Goodman's have updated interiors with paint and wallpaper in shades of pink, green, red, and yellow.

The second home is that of Ed and Mary Helen Lannan, located in Windover, a fairly new subdivision located off Sheffield Road. Their address is 217 Windover Way.

In 1988 the Lannan's lost their home and most of its contents in a house fire. Not wanting a large yard to tend, the Lannan's who are retired, chose to build a garden-home at Windover.

The couple have 10 children: Gussie Bunch, Far Rockaway, N. Y.; Barbara Henderson, Elba, AL; Doris Haynes, Enterprise, AL; Mattie Nance, Cincinnati, OH; Lois Nance, Cincinnati, OH; Norma Ruth Harris, Juanita Finch, Roy, Lae Harris and John Brady Roy - all of New Brockton, AL; Mary Harris deceased. They also have 27 grandchildren and many great grandchildren.

The house was built in 1983 by Ray Metcalf containing 1,900 square feet. The two-story house has three bedrooms and three bathrooms.

Mrs. Vaughn decorated the house in shades of green, blue, and yellow. Almost every piece of furniture in the house is an antique that was restored by Don, who's hobby is woodwork. He also made the home's fireplace mantel and built a hutch for the country kitchen.

The home is full of windows and in the back the windows look over a deck and a beautifully landscaped back yard.

For the tour, all three homes will be decorated with flower arrangements by members of Azalea, Daffodil and Flower Lovers Garden Clubs.

A fourth home, "The Charleston House," will serve as refreshment center. Located at 201 E. Watts, just behind Humana Hospital, the home was built in the 1920s.

Tickets to the tour are $5 in advance and $6 at the door. Student tickets are $2. Tickets may be purchased from club members or at Andrew's Gift Shop or Special Agents, both located in downtown Enterprise.

Like apples of gold in settings of silver is a word spoken in right circumstances, and the evil report about you not pass away.

Like an earring of gold and an ornament of fine gold is a wise reprover to a listening ear.

Like the cold of snow in the time of harvest is a faithful messenger to those who send him, for he refreshes the soul of his masters.

Like clouds and wind without rain is a man who boasts of his gifts falsely.

By forbearance a ruler may be persuaded, and a soft tongue breaks the bone.

Do not go out hastily to argue your case; Otherwise what will you do in the end, when your neighbor puts you to shame?

Argue your case with your neighbor, and do not reveal the secret of an other.

Like apples of gold in settings of silver is a word spoken in right circumstances, and the evil report about you not pass away.

Like an earring of gold and an ornament of fine gold is a wise reprover to a listening ear.

Like the cold of snow in the time of harvest is a faithful messenger to those who send him, for he refreshes the soul of his masters.

Like clouds and wind without rain is a man who boasts of his gifts falsely.

Prayer For Today Dear God and Father of all mankind. Thank you for today. We pray for the young men and women suffering from the pangs of broken relationships. The drug addict, the absentee parent, those who feel defeated by life, and father, have mercy upon the bereaved and lonely, the careless and unconcerned.

Help us to be humble and obedient to Your Divine Commandments and help us to realize that all we have belongs to You. In Jesus' Name we pray, Amen.

FBLA Participates In District Contest

Several members of the Elba High School Future Business Leaders of America Club participated in the Annual District Competitive event held February 27 at Central High School in Phenix City, Alabama.

The members participated in contests that tested their knowledge of computer concepts, computer applications, accounting terminology and concepts, and FBLA general information. Some of the tests were written objective tests and some were performance tests.

Five members participated in the following contests: Joey Bozeman, Computer Concepts; Laura Hall, Computer Applications; Joe Russell, Who's Who; Heather Stinson, Miss FBLA; and Hope Taylor, Accounting. As a result of entering Miss FBLA, Heather Stinson won first place in this event. This contest involved a written test about business law, business principles, business math, accounting, parliamentary procedures, and general information about FBLA. The second part of this test was an interview before a panel of three judges. As a request to entering this contest, Heather had to submit a letter of application and a resume. She will represent our school and introduce the guests, dismissing the contestants, introducing the talent and contest, announcing the winners of the contests, and adjourning the meeting.

Freedom Forum

by Laura Hall

On March 4, 1993, a program entitled Freedom Forum was presented at Elba High and Elementary Schools. This was a special program from which all students should have benefited. The first speaker was originally from Germany. He was born and grew up amidst many air raids during World War II. He told the students they should be thankful for their country and be proud of it. The second speaker discussed his life. He grew up dealing with drugs. He told the students that they should stay away from drugs. The third speaker spoke about his blindness. He told the story of how he always wanted to be in public school instead of a blind school. He talked about what it was like when his dream came true and he attended a public school. Everyone picked on him and knocked him down, but he proved that you can do anything that you set your mind to do. All students at Elba High School appreciated and benefited from the program.

9,360 doughnuts! Wow! That's what the Future Business Leaders of America club sold. The FBLA Club at EHS conducted its annual fundraiser this year which included a sale of 780 dozen of doughnuts. The doughnuts were delivered to the school for distribution to the members. A Day In History... March 13, 1902

by Lance McColough and Laura Hall

Recently we visited the new Elba Public Library and looked through old Elba Clippings which the library has on microfilm. We decided to look at the Clippings published the week of March 13, 1902 and research it for interesting articles. As our English teachers have told us, the style of writing and speaking changes through the years and so do our lifestyles. The following excerpts from the March 13, 1902 Clipping illustrates this: "It now looks very much like spring is on in earnest, but the Clipping is afraid to make the statement, for fear that we will have another blizzard." This statement indicates that there was a blizzard in Elba in 1902.

Another article in the same paper was about the Elba school system. According to the article students who lived in the country were having to find families in Elba to live with during the school year. This was necessary because there were no school buses. A farm article reported that a "good deal of cotton was shipped out at the beginning of the week." The Clipping also reported that the price of the Elba Clippings in the coming weeks. "A Day In History" will be repeated, thanks to the microfilm at the Elba Public Library.

Things You Never Hear... During Spring Break

by Grant Coleman

1. "The beach? Who goes to the BEACH?"
2. "I sure hope it gets colder. Hey, maybe we'll get some snow!"
3. "Why do we have to be out of school for a whole week?"
4. "Alright! An entire week to STUDY!"
5. "I can't wait to show off my lily-white body!"
6. "I sure hope the grass gets tall enough to mow."

Joey will attend the three-day Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation South Alabama Leadership Seminar at Huntington College in Montgomery in May. The goals of the state and international Hugh O'Brian seminars are "to seek out, recognize, develop, and reward leadership potential in high school sophomores in the United States and abroad; to encourage and assist members of this formative age group in their quest for self-identification and self-development; to interface these potential leaders with recognized leaders in business, government, science, education and the professions through give-and-take sessions; to present through this exposure, both exploration and advocacy of the American economic incentive system and our democratic process; to stimulate opportunities for these young people to demonstrate their leadership abilities when they return home for betterment of community and country."

Joey and three other students were nominated for this award and has to submit a seventy-five word answer to each of three questions on leadership and on their involvement in school activities. The sophomore sponsors, Mrs. Sonya Shaw, Mrs. Anna Mendler, and Zion Chapel's guidance counselor, Mr. Pat Taylor, made the final decision on the award winner.

Staff Begins Work On 92-93 Yearbook

by Denise Marier

The members of the annual staff have begun working on the 1992-93 yearbook. The theme and type of cover for the yearbook have been chosen.

Each student has written five stories, one for each of the following categories: academics, sports, community, student life, and organizations. The most creative, original, and informative of these stories may be used for the annual yearbook. The students are now in the process of learning about type fitting, which is determining how much space a specific amount of copy will take up on a layout sheet. This is important for placing all captions, copy, subheads, and headlines in the yearbook.

Students have been assigned members of the faculty and staff to interview for information with which to write a caption about each for the faculty and staff section of the yearbook. The students are planning to sell ads to raise money. Assignments for work on the yearbook account for 25 percent of each student's nine weeks average.

The Zion Chapel Chapter of FFA observed National FFA Week February 22-26, 1993. FFA is sponsored by Mr. John McCrory. Several events were planned for the week. There was a Potting Zoo planned for Monday but inclement weather conditions made the zoo impossible. Tuesday was Earth Day and club members planted twelve trees and twelve shrubs to mark the day. Wednesday was Tractor Day and the members who could, drove a tractor to school. Lee Jacobs and Jason Allen participated in this event. Their tractors were made available for other members of FFA and other students at ZC to look the tractors over. Thursday was Teacher Appreciation Day and the FFA treated the faculty and staff to a Hardie's sausage and biscuit. Teachers were also given an FFA pencil and small notebook. The FFA, gave these tokens in appreciation of the work that teachers do. Friday was FFA Day and members were asked to wear their FFA jackets or shirts in observance of the day.

Blood Drive Breaks Record

by Nicki Pilcher

Zion Chapel's 1992-93 Red Cross Blood Drive broke the school's record. The most prints collected in a single year had been 25. This year 31 were collected.

The Student Government Association (SGA) set a goal of at least thirty pints of blood and they were very successful in passing that goal. The blood drive was held in the Home Economics Department and lasted from 12:30 p.m. until 3:30 p.m.

The Red Cross arrived at Zion Chapel about noon and began to set up tables, chairs, beds, bags, and other machines needed to hold a blood drive. When everything was organized students began to line up to register for the event. Several adults from the community also helped the club reach their goal by donating blood. This was the first year Zion Chapel was able to reach more than thirty pints. This was also the first year that the Student Government Association sponsored the blood drive. Thanks to everyone who donated blood-you could save a life.

REAL PERSON REAL IMPROVEMENTS

James Perkins talks about the benefits of making Good Cents Improvements.

- When Electric Cooperative members James Perkins and his wife decided to convert their old garage into a new den, the first thing they did was call their local cooperative to get the Good Cents facts. They got them, along with professional assistance and advice on improvements to make.
- "We were really pleased with the services from our co-op," says Perkins. "We installed a new heat pump, insulated windows and lots of other really significant improvements."
- Now, along with a beautiful new den, the Perkins will enjoy years of lower energy bills, thanks to their Good Cents improvements. Good Cents features make a home more energy-efficient. That means lower energy costs every month. And research has shown that Good Cents homes sell faster because of the energy savings they offer.
- James Perkins will be the first one to tell you:

Elba All-Stars return home Sunday

Snowbound Stars survive storm at state

You win some, you lose some and some get...snowed out!

The "Storm of the Century" that dumped almost two feet of snow across north Alabama last weekend forced the postponement of the State A.R.P.A. "10 and Under" Basketball Tournament, in Childersburg, and trapped Elba players, parents and fans for almost two days before they were able to make their way out over snow covered roadways.

The Elba contingent arrived in Sylacauga late Friday afternoon to compete in Saturday's event, and did actually get to practice at the city's community center Friday night.

However, Saturday was a completely different story, as some six-teen-inches of snow fell overnight and paralyzed the entire state, including the hilly communities of Sylacauga and Childersburg.

When we woke up Saturday morning the snow was up to three feet deep against the walls of the motel," stated Elba Recreation Director Ricky Mularz, "and the director in Childersburg had no choice but to postpone the tournament. Once the tournament was postponed, we were ready to head back home, but the roads were totally covered with snow and it was obvious to everyone that we were going to be forced to spend an extra night in Sylacauga."

The director in Childersburg was concerned about the players that were snowed in and plans were made to send food to the motel," added Mularz, "but breakfast soon turned into lunch and it was clear that anything would be better than nothing. Some Elba fans talked someone with a four-wheel drive vehicle to go out and bring back some snacks, and later in the day some fans rode National Guard trucks to the only store in town that was open, while I went with a recreation employee and got what we could."

The players were hungry," said Mularz, "but they had an easy time killing the time during the day by building snowmen and having countless snowball fights. The kids weren't really concerned about eating until late in the day, when they got some hot dogs and candy."

"Saturday night the players ran around a little," Mularz added, "but the daylong playing in the snow had taken its toll and the kids went to bed early. The fact the temperature dropped to only three degrees didn't hurt to get in indoors, either."

Team members and coaches made the most of the postponement of last weekend's tournament and got in plenty of practice throwing snowballs and making the most of a bad situation. The Elba All-Stars were disappointed the tourney was called off, but didn't seem too disappointed with the time they got to play in the snow.

The sunny skies Sunday morning gave the Elba gathering hope of an escape from the snowy north and at approximately 10:30 A.M. word came that one parent from Mobile had made it to Montgomery using an alternate route.

The Brantley Bulldogs had their party delayed by one day because of a snow storm, but started the celebration early Sunday afternoon as the Bulldogs pounded the Frisco City Whippets 63-38, to win the Class 1A State Basketball Tournament, in Tuscaloosa.

The three state tournament winners improved the Bulldogs record to 32-3. Following are highlights of the Bulldogs' victorious romp through the state tournament:

Peanut Support Levels Are Unchanged

The federal support price for 1993-crop peanuts is $674.93 per ton, unchanged from the 1992 crop, according to David W. Eaddy, CEO of the Coffee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The $131.09 per ton support level for additional peanuts is also unchanged from last year.

"The national average support rate for 1993-crop peanuts remains at the 1992 level because of the cost of producing the 1992 crop was less than the cost of producing 1991-crop peanuts," Eaddy said. He said the price support level for additional peanuts must be set at a rate estimated to ensure no government loss on these peanuts. In determining this level, USDA considered the demand for peanut oil and peanut meal, the expected prices for these products, and the demand for peanuts in the foreign market.

Eaddy explained that quota peanuts are those grown on a farm with a 1991-crop peanuts in excess of the farm's poundage quota, or those grown on a farm with no poundage quota.
